Subject: Settlement

Our government or any part thereof, should never be used as some sort of wrecking ball used against those entities which through superior strategy and innovation realize the maximum benefits of our capitalistic system. It is through such practices that the consumer realizes the greatest benefits of innovations at competitive market costs.

Therefore, it is a credit to our system of justice and fairness that the anti-trust case against Microsoft, encouraged and driven by those entities that choose to whine rather than compete, be concluded in this settlement rather than some heavy handed judgement by the DOJ against the Microsoft Corporation.

Thank You.
